Exploring Lichtenberg's Memorable Quotations

On Science and Knowledge

- "The less one knows, the more one believes one knows."

- "Experience is a comb which nature gives us when we are bald."

"When elephants fight, it is the grass that gets hurt."

(Kenyan proverb)

@chapmangriffio

Meaning: Fights of the powerful only hurt the little guys.

- "A hypothesis is like a fishing net. The wider you make it, the more you will catch, but the less you will know what you have caught."

Formulating Hypotheses

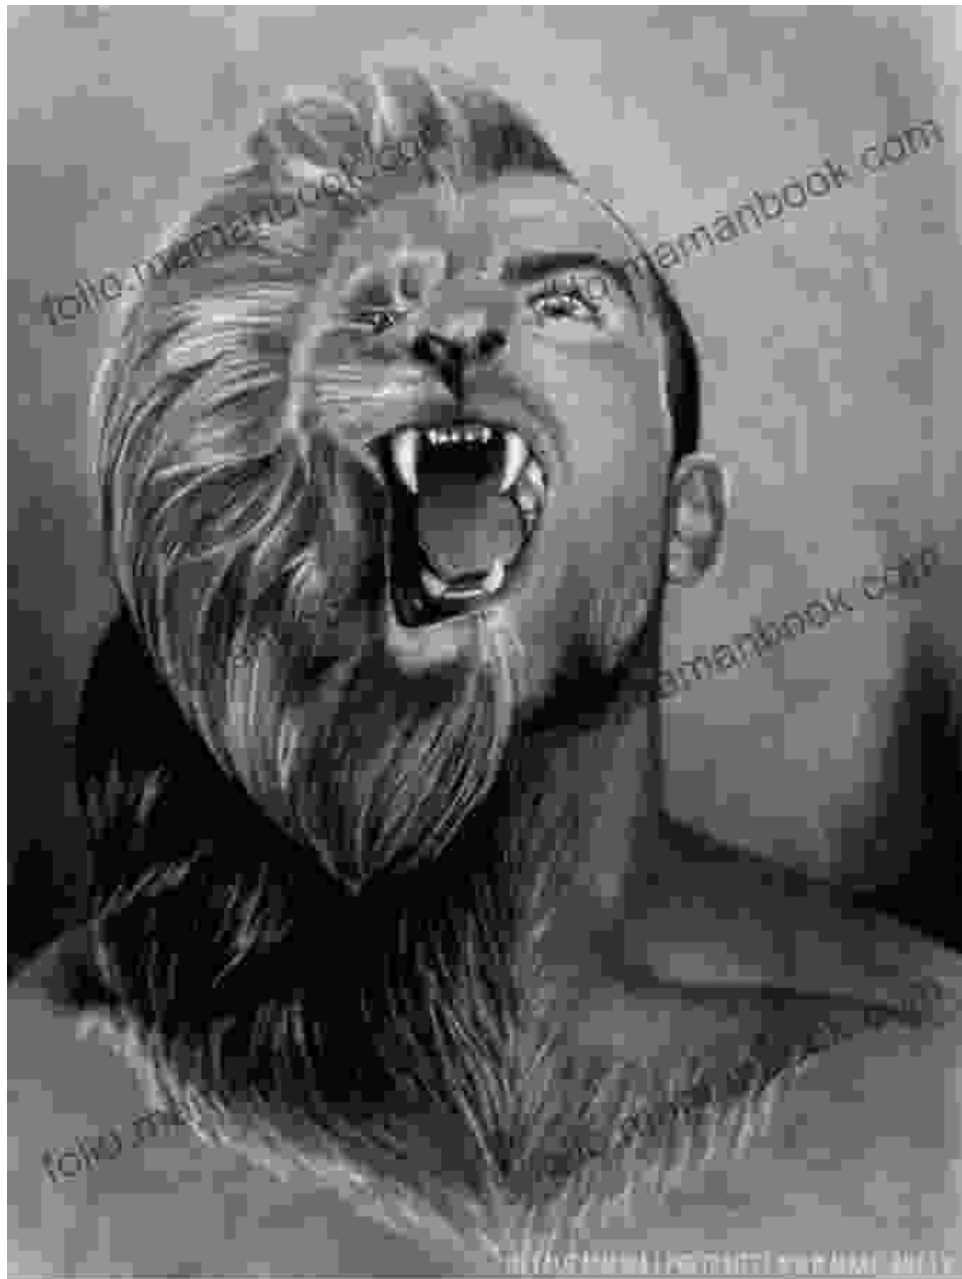

- Begins with an assumption called Hypothesis.

- Hypothesis

- Claim (assumption) about a population parameter.
- An unproven proposition or supposition that tentatively explains certain facts or phenomena.
- A proposition that is empirically testable.

On Society and Human Nature

- "Man is a social animal, but he bites."

- "The more you know of the world, the more you will find that a majority of men are governed by their bellies and their organs."

- "Society is a ship that sails on; those who board it are not responsible for the ballast."

On Humor and the Absurdity of Life

- "The more seriously we take life, the more ridiculous we appear."

- "The art of being wise is the art of knowing what to overlook."

- "Life is like a play; the first act is a comedy, the second an emotional drama, and the third a tragedy."

What is a Metaphor?

A metaphor is a literary device used to imply a comparison between two ideas, things, or people.

1 Metaphors compare an idea to something tangible for creative analogy.

She's a ticking time bomb.  Her eyes are pure stars.

2 Metaphors inject life into music, poetry, speeches, and novels.

*"I'm a riddle in nine syllables,
An elephant, a ponderous house,
A melon strolling on two tendrils."
- Sylvia Plath, *Metaphors

 *"They are the hunters, we are the foxes, and we run."
- Taylor Swift, *I Know Places

Georg Christoph Lichtenberg's memorable quotations offer a unique lens through which to examine the complexities of science, society, and human nature. His wit, wisdom, and keen observations have stood the test of time, continuing to provoke thought and inspire generations of readers.

By delving into Lichtenberg's words, we gain insights into the human condition, the pursuit of knowledge, and the often absurd nature of life. His quotations empower us to question assumptions, embrace laughter, and appreciate the profound within the seemingly ordinary.

As we close, we leave you with one of Lichtenberg's most enduring aphorisms: "The world is a book, and those who do not travel read only one page." May his words continue to inspire your curiosity, broaden your perspectives, and enrich your journey through life.
